Update on TRADEcho Trade Reporting Service

---

The TRADEcho trade reporting service has operated under a collaboration agreement between London Stock Exchange plc, Cinnober Financial Technology AB, and Simplitium Ltd. The parties have agreed to transition this agreement to a licence and support arrangement between London Stock Exchange plc and Cinnober Financial Technology, as of 1 January 2020.

These changes will streamline product delivery and client experience. As part of the transition, relevant staff from Simplitium will transfer to London Stock Exchange Group, ensuring continuity of customer service. In the immediate term, contact phone numbers and emails remain the same, and customers will be notified of any subsequent change in due course.

For any questions, please contact your usual London Stock Exchange plc or Simplitium contact.
