The purpose of this Service Announcement is to inform customers that the IP addresses for all environments (Customer Development Service (CDS), Legacy CDS and Production) of London Stock Exchange Millennium trading, TRADEcho, and modularised Group Ticker Plant (GTP) systems in the new data centre are now available on the website.

The first environment to be available for customer testing in the new data centre will be the new London Stock Exchange Millennium trading and modularised GTP CDS, scheduled for early Q2 2022. Further Service Announcements will be released to provide updates on the migration including details on the enablement process.

London Stock Exchange Millennium trading and modularised GTP production services will cut over to the new data centre on Saturday 27 August 2022. The first trading day is scheduled for Tuesday 30 August 2022, customers will need to connect to the new data centre from this date as the existing data centre will no longer be operational.

The CDS and Legacy CDS services that run out of the existing data centre will cease to be operational on the same date. Customers will need to connect to the new data centre to access both environments.

TRADEcho Approved Publication Arrangement (APA) and TRADEcho GTP market data service cut-over date will be announced in due course.

The Connectivity guides have been updated and are available at:
